Processing Your Order

We try our best to ship goods to you as soon as possible. On an average, it takes us about 1-2 business days to ship goods out of our warehouses across India. However if the quantities ordered are more than 5 pieces per product, or if the item ordered is under production, it may take longer to process your order. Should this happen, we will keep you informed by email.

To calculate how much time it will take you to receive your product, please add the shipping times given below to the 1-2 day order processing period.
